TUESDAY, NOV. 6, 1906.

Do you know that this is election day here and in most of the states of the Union? It means much to other states, the greatest struggle of all being in New York, where it is said that party lines will be drawn to some extent making the contest between Hughes and Hearst the more doubtful.

Mr. W. F. Marshall has sold the Charleston Gazette to Mr. J. W. Atkins, who has been connected with the Charleston Observer. Mr. Marshall is a gifted newspaper man and will be distinctly missed in the field of journalism. He has been the proprietor of the Gazette for fifteen years, with a short interval, and he has never sold a full issue. This writer feels a peculiar interest in the Gazette, because on it he had his first newspaper experience. Jan. 1, 1893, and sold it to Mr. Marshall Apr. 1, 1901.

Dr. McLean's lecture Friday evening was attended by those who usually attend and appreciate instructive lectures, and they were handsomely entertained.

Dr. McLean made but little effort at declamation, though some passages were delivered with due effect. The thought, however, was that of the election and it was expressed in a way that was chaste and pleasing. It is just justice to Dr. McLean to say that the lecture was prepared with the clearest of intention to act, and that he has not been able to get it thoroughly at command.

Had we sufficient notes to give a synopsis of the lecture, we would have our space would not permit. We can say this, however, that a lecture rarely leaves with an audience so much real instruction as we worthy a subject about which so little is known. Sidney Lanier was not the only poet whose genius has not been recognized until a generation had followed him to the grave, neither was he one of those whose genius was such that it must needs fade out of memory and tradition before the jaws of oblivion could appear in their true light.

Let us not only read Lanier's works, but acquaint ourselves with his life, his noble impulses and his lofty aspirations.

Immigrants in Chester.

The much heralded immigrant ship Wittekind has arrived at Charleston with 476 immigrants. It is said that half of them are Belgians and the rest Germans, Austrians, Swedes, and perhaps some French and other nationalities. Forty-eight of the number came right on to Chester, arriving here yesterday morning. Possibly a few of these may work at the Burek mills, but most of them are at the Spruett mills. Only two or three of them speak English. Mr. L. B. Reading went to Charleston to meet the immigrants and secured a young woman for home help, Miss Grete, Hohenhausen, who is to be her work immediately after she is very much pleased. They have been used to white help and the German language gives them an advantage as they speak it as easily as English. Mr. Scott, superintendent of the Spruett mills, also went to Charleston and took with him a German who has been working in the mills as an interpreter.

The Cosar Special Sale.

Mr. H. L. Kinsten, of Baltimore, of the firm of L. Kinsten & Co., Portsmouth, Va., the expert decorators and sale conductors, has made a special sale at Cosar's Mercantile Co. He notifies the public that the sale will positively close Nov. 10th. All he asks is for the public to come and see the bargains he has in clothing, dry goods, shoes, hats and ladies' and gentlemen's furnishings. Mr. Kinsten knows his business from end to end and goes at it in a businesslike way. The bargains offered by him in this paper must have attracted the attention of our readers. It will pay them to at least call in and examine the goods.

Accidentally Shot.

Ernest Wilson, son of Mr. J. E. Wilson, who lives on the John Fiske street, E. D. No. 10, was in the knee Saturday by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of Wm. Lindsay, who was down there hunting. The hunting party caused much anxiety at first but the lad is reported as getting along finely now and no serious result is anticipated. Although he will not be able to go to school for some time, his parents and friends are very anxious for him. Mr. Lindsay, who is spending much time with the woman, is giving him a very ample attention.

Mr. John T. Atkinson died at Federal Hill, Fla., last Friday morning. His death was the result of a heart attack. He was taken to the Union church for burial. Revs. J. S. Snyder and R. A. Lumsden conducted funeral services. Mr. Atkinson had been living in Florida about four years. His living children are Mr. E. M. Atkinson, of this city, and Messrs. G. W. and J. B. Atkinson, who were born in Florida. One brother, Mr. J. B. Atkinson, of this county, and a sister, Mrs. C. E. Griffin, of Largo, Fla., survive.

Court Proceedings.

John Meeks, who at the time of our last report, was on trial for assault and battery with intent to kill and carrying concealed weapons, was found guilty of assault and battery of high and aggravated nature and was sentenced to the penitentiary for one year.

Sophia McCoy, whose case was the first one tried, was sentenced to one year of hard labor.

Attempted Assault.

A negro made an attempt to assault a white woman on Saturday. A. W. Brown, who was with her, caught her by the arm and she fled. Her father arrived about that time and shot at the negro but he escaped. A message was sent to town and John H. Howe arrested one Henry Miller, who was charged with the assault. He is in jail. He and Judge Price is hearing that motion argued at this writing.

Immigrant Ship Arrived.

Charleston, Nov. 4.—The much heralded North German Lloyd steamer Wittekind arrived in port today from Bremen with 476 passengers on board. The ship was captained by Captain Breitenbach, who was accompanied by the big steamer corporation is to run to Charleston. In the movement inaugurated by State Commissioner Watson to divert the immigration from Northern ports to Charleston, that these people may be distributed through South Carolina, supplying much needed agricultural, mechanical and labor hands, where they are most needed. It is probable that the Wittekind will prove the first of a regular and permanent line of steamships for both passengers and freight between Charleston and Bremen; the permanence of the line being in a measure dependent upon the success of the two first vessels. The second vessel is due to sail from Bremen on Dec. 22 for Charleston—Special to The State.

Artificial Silk.

Remarkable and revolutionary is the silk news from Sweden. An artificial silk factory has been established in the Gothenburg district. When it commences work, it will produce quantities of Swedish silk, and water power in its mills, it will be seen that the textile world will soon have reason to watch the result of this new venture. It is only half of what is claimed for it. It proves true. A company of the name of silk (Artificial) has been organized in Sweden. It is now in the process of building a factory and exploiting an invention made by Knut Erik W. Stenlund, of Gothenburg, Sweden, for the manufacture of vegetable silk. Extensive experiments this industry is now in Sweden, and it is claimed that the silk will have an appearance and is just as strong or durable as natural silk, or even stronger. It is further stated that the silk has been tested in Swedish and German cloth factories with favorable results.—Chicago Tribune.

Mrs. Virginia D. Young.

Fairfax, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Virginia D. Young, who died Friday afternoon, was buried in the cemetery at the Baptist church just out of the town last night.

Mr. Young was taken with a cold last Sunday morning and although Dr. Young practically gave up his practice as to give his entire attention to her he did not think her case was serious until Wednesday when he discovered that she had contracted pneumonia. She grew rapidly worse and died within the end of the week.

Mrs. Virginia DuPont Young, daughter of Col. DuPont, was born and reared in Marion county, this State. She first married Mr. Covington and the couple went to Mississippi to live, but after they had been there a few years Mr. Covington died and Mrs. Covington came back to her native State. In 1879 or early in 1880 she visited Mrs. Dr. W. T. Broadland, her college classmate, who lives a few miles from this place, and while there Dr. William J. Young met her. The result was that they soon became fond of each other and were married in December, 1880. The two have been married ever since and are loved by both as a mother's affection for her babe; and the feeling never abated.

Dr. Mr. Young have lived happily in their splendid home for 26 years, but both of them have been very busy during that time. The result was that they were not able to have a large family, but he has had scarcely any time for rest or recreation. In the meantime his wife besides looking after her domestic affairs, has been busy with her pen. She is the author of several books. "Holding as in a Glass," "A Tower in the Desert," and "The Little Girl's Children." Besides these she wrote many interesting newspaper and magazine articles. She was also an eloquent speaker and was probably the foremost woman's rights woman in the South. She visited many of the woman's rights conventions in other States and her addresses on these subjects were always able and were highly appreciated.

About 10 years ago she established "The Fairfax Enterprise" here and has been a successful proprietor. It has been quite a success. The singular about this paper is that it has been conducted entirely by women. Mrs. Young was Mrs. Daisy Sawyer during the greater part of her work.

Mrs. Young's life and her works have been so beautifully portrayed by Mrs. Sen in The State that it is almost constrained to write what I have concerning my departed neighbor and friend.—J. W. W. in The State.

Clemson Plays Davidson.

Charleston, November 3.—In the closest possible game of foot ball, Clemson and Davidson played a zero to zero game here this afternoon. The first half of the game was a contest against the strong defense of the opponents. Once in the first half Davidson, receiving the ball on a punt, ran to Clemson's yard line, here to lose it on a down and a blocked attempt at a drop kick. In the second half, on a similar play, Clemson carried the ball seven yards, here to lose it on a drop kick. Davidson's goal line, but was unable to take it back.

During the first half Clemson gained more consistently than did Davidson, but in the second half, with substitutions in the place of Gaston, Purdie and Cotes, Davidson had the best of the argument. The line work of Davidson's two big guards was the feature of Davidson's work.

For Clemson, the work of McMillan, at quarter, McLaughlin, at tackle, and the work of Latimer, who went in to take Purdie's place in the second half, was particularly good.

Davidson has a veteran team, of about the same weight, as the Clemson eleven, and in order to get the large number of new men on the South Carolina team, the score is by no means unsatisfactory to the Tiger supporters.

WOMAN

"Woman" is the name of a new magazine for women.

The first number is just issued. Your newsdealer has it. You can get it from him, and it is worth your while getting it. There is nothing startling about this magazine. There should be nothing startling about a decent magazine for women and the home. But this particular magazine is unique among all the so-called publications for women. You might not like it a little bit, and then, again, it might hit your fancy good and hard.

If you like fiction—good, wide-awake, snappy stories—both serials and short stories—you will like "Woman."

In fact, fiction is the big feature of the magazine.

All the other magazines for women are cast on the same model—a little bit of fiction, a few articles, more or less chit chat, some wise advice, a fashion department and a smattering of general miscellany. "WOMAN" doesn't look any more like this conventional model than a yellow dog looks like a race horse. It is built on new lines for a strictly woman's publication. To know what it is like you will have to get a copy of it. It would cost too much to tell you all about it in this advertisement.

The price of "WOMAN" is TEN CENTS A COPY, and the magazine is a very big one—192 pages.

By the way, two rattling good serial stories begin in this first number and it contains a big lot of other good things. You would do well to ask your dealer for it before his supply is exhausted.

Dispensary School Fund.

The authorities at the State dispensary have promised to remit to the State Treasurer $10,000 a week for the school fund until about $60,000 is paid in. It will be recalled that at the session of the dispensary investigating committee last year it was brought out that the dispensary then owed the school fund $114,000 in round figures.

Since that time there has been only one settlement. On March 2, $25,000 was paid in for distribution, and of that amount about $4,000 remains to the credit of the fund. In the statement rendered by the dispensary for the quarter ending Aug. 31, the amount due the school fund is placed at $79,500.41, and the capital stock is placed at $100,000, "belonging to the school fund." The cash in the State treasury is placed at $44,637.55, but this cash statement varies from day to day and cannot be checked up to the school fund.

Commissioner Tatum requires all retail E. P. Stokes, who runs a good sized farm about three miles west of the city, is the father of ten children. His wife is living, and both of them are very clever people.

The child that was taken ill about a week before its death was a bright little boy of about 9 years. The death of the child follows by a somewhat common condition for several hours. Some of the neighbors called at the Stokes home to assist, as best they could, and to stay during the night.

In the early part of the night it is stated that the little fellow was resting quietly and peacefully. The father asked him if he was better, but no response was made. He then asked the child if it thought it was saved, and still the child did not reply to the question. The father then told the little boy that he had sent after the "saluta," and when they arrived that they would pray for him and he would get well.

Later in the night there was an alarm at the door, and upon its being opened in walked the "saluta" alluded to by the child's father. There were three of them, two black negro women and one black negro man. The neighbors who had gone to spend the night and assist in nursing the child at once secured their hats and left the house for their homes. Next morning they were informed that the child had died during the night and that medical attention by a physician had never been given it.

Friday Mr. Manly E. Morris, one of the neighbors of Mr. Stokes, came to the city and went before Magistrate R. S. Smith and swore out a warrant for Stokes, and on Saturday Constable Dennis, who was provided with the warrant, arrested Stokes and carried him before Magistrate Smith for a preliminary hearing, which he waived, and Judge Smith bound him over to the Court of General Sessions, placing him under a $200 bond.

The magistrate's warrant charged Stokes with a violation of Section 135 of the Criminal Code of South Carolina.

The result of Stokes' trial will, no doubt, be watched for with a great deal of interest throughout the State as the band of "Faith Curists" in this State, it is said, is growing to an alarming extent.—Special to News and Courier.

Revived After Heart Stops.

Milville, N. J., Nov. 1.—The breath having left his body, his heart motionless and apparently dead, J. J. Beebe of South Milville was revived last night, and today is able to tell how it feels to be dead.

Mr. Beebe was suddenly stricken with his heart failure, and when Doctors John W. Wade, H. G. Miller and Fred Jones arrived, life seemed to be extinct. One of the physicians noticed a slight twitch of one of the muscles of the man's face, and they at once resorted to a hypodermic medication. Artificial respiration was produced but slowly the man returned to life. The medical men regard the result as miraculous.

"Saluta" Were Negroes.

Florence, October 30.—The arrest of E. P. Stokes, the member of the "Faith Cure Band," at this place, on Saturday, upon a warrant sworn out before Magistrate R. S. Smith, by Mr. Manly E. Morris, an account of which was published in the News and Courier of today, has been the subject of discussion among a number of our people since Saturday.

That the child arrested, that has been made in this State on a warrant sworn out and served on Stokes, was a negro child, and that the child having received such treatment. The first case was the one at Darlington, the other at Anderson and now comes Florence.

The case at Florence, which was reported yesterday, is one that will certainly go into the courts.

Historic Old Gun.

Dr. W. G. White has in his possession an old gun that was carried in the Revolutionary war by his great-grandfather, William White, of Chester district. William White, of Chester district, at the beginning of the war, was in the service of Col. Richardson, an expedition against Tories in the western part of the State, afterwards serving under Gen. Sumter in campaigns commanded by Capt. Leary, McFarlane and Walker and saw active service, against the enemy at the Battle of King's Mountain, Fish Dam and Blackstock. The old gun never failed him and at the close of hostilities he returned home, safe and sound carrying the old rifle that was to be handed down to his descendants as a prized heirloom.

A brief sketch of the life of this old Revolutionary hero as taken from the family records will not doubt prove of interest in this connection.

William White, at the age of 12 years, came with his father, John White, from County Antrim, Ireland, to America and settled in Chester district, South Carolina, three miles southeast of the town of Chester. In the year 1767, the lands on which they settled and deeds to same were granted from King George III, and are still in possession of the descendants of John and William White.

After the close of the Revolutionary war, William White returned to his home, lived an upright and honorable life raising a family of eight sons, seven of whom served gallantly in the war of 1812. William White was an ardent union man, and during stirring period of the 30s, primed up his old gun, prey to America to again serve his country if the necessity arose.

AN INDEPENDENT CIRCUS.

John Robinson's Show the Only Big Circus Not Included in the Trust.

All the really big circuses in this country can be counted upon the fingers of one hand, and all but one of them are now in a combine known as the Circus Trust, and has for its primary object the suppression of all legitimate competition and the curtailment of expenses by doing away with parade and other features that have become so established that the circus would indeed seem sadly lacking without them.

The only first-class circus that does not enter the combine this year is the John Robinson Show and the management states that they will positively not be led by this association of trust builders. They will not only continue the use of the parade as a feature, but will see that each year adds some new and attractive novelty for the approbation of its action in this standing out alone against the combine effort to win them many followers and it is safe to predict that their appearance here on Friday Nov. 9th will be greeted with capacity business at both the afternoon and night performances.

The State Fair.

The State fair was a good deal usual so far as agricultural implements and machinery were concerned. Crop exhibits were attractive to those who had time to examine them. The exhibit of live stock was creditable. The racing was good enough to bet on. There was the usual show of fair women, fakers, fast horses and fortune tellers. Columbia was still unable to entertain the visitors, or the committee of arrangements was slack in its duty. People going into the city to do a little shopping in the afternoon found great difficulty in finding a lodging place. Then the street railway secured an unusual privilege from the association. People were not allowed to leave the ground until cars were ready to carry them. As soon as a car was full the gate was closed and the people were obliged to wait until another car came. The charge was 10 cents. But the people are not obliged to attend fairs nor visit Columbia at any time if they do not want to. There is no use to kick when they can stay at home. Carolina Spartan.

The State's Finances.

The State of South Carolina has on hand about $47,000 of the $25,000 borrowed recently. It is thought that with this amount and with the taxes received from time to time, enough money will be realized to keep up the running expenses of the government until the first of next year. This will be the first time in several years that the state has not borrowed $200,000, the amount allowed by law. The legislature in its appropriations sometimes exceed the income received, but there has been a balance to the credit of the state for the last two years.

The county treasurers are sending in their money early this year. The treasurer of Marlboro sent in $46,172.50 after the tax books opened and the treasurer of Spartanburg county, always prompt, has already remitted about $400.

The Bumper Crops of 1906.

The corn crop is now estimated at 55,000,000 bushels and has matured so that all danger from frost is passed. The greatest crop of winter wheat ever known is harvested and safe—estimated at 50,000,000 bushels and spring wheat is a good average crop. On a percentage basis cotton is four points above an average crop; barley six points; rye four; tobacco four; buckwheat three; and potatoes and hops promise average yields, but of excellent quality. Apples show a phenomenal yield and are of fine appearance and very superior quality. But it is not necessary to go through the list of reliable estimates now on hand for the numerous other crops. Since the beginning of the season nothing has been heard from the farmer except loud cries for more men to harvest the crops and more men to market them. Most remarkable of all, the prodigious yields have not affected the market and the demand for all farm crops is active and at the prices.—From Farming.

Miss More than They Are Missed.

A subscriber stopped the Charlotte News because of an editorial he did not like. The fellow who stop their paper on this account do not hurt anybody but themselves, for they miss the paper vastly more than the paper misses their ten cents a week. And if they knew how the newspaper publishers laugh at them they would find some other excuse for quitting to give none at all.—Spartanburg Journal.

The Federal Building.

As stated before, the Federal authorities considered the gross absurd for a building site exorbitant, and unless a better offer is made it is almost sure that they will resort to condemnation proceedings. In this case the most desirable lot will be selected and appraised, and the value named by the commission will be awarded, which may be less than half what has been asked. It is unfortunate that a site could not be secured without this and other expenses, all of which come out of the appropriation. Every inspection, every trip of an official, every hitch and every expense of any kind means a reduction of the amount to be spent on the building.

Another opportunity boffered, however, for amended propositions, and we trust that a satisfactory offer may yet be made. The following notice has been posted:

"NOTICE.
"Notice is hereby given that final consideration will be given and selection made of a site for the United States government building to be erected at Chester, S. C., and purchase thereof closed on the first day of December 1908.

The train was taking the side track there in No. 30, coming north pass and the switch was turned too soon, throwing the coaches between and across the tracks and placed them in such a position the engine could not pull them forward nor push them back. An engine was sent down from here and pulled them back on the track. Both trains were delayed about four hours.

Doesn't it do your soul good to hear your goods praised from every quarter. Well, ladies, that's exactly the way it is with our Jackets and Coats. We are told our display of Ladies' Coats and Jackets is the largest and loveliest in town, and we purchased so many, and do we think we will ever sell them all. We bought big quantities to enable us to undersell other merchants, which we are clearly doing. And, in answering the other question, if our friends are alert to magnificent Coats and Jackets offered at a great saving, we will sell them all.

Only the other day we received 235 Long Coats for Ladies, which can't be sold in the regular way for less than $5.00. Klutz' saving price $3.95. This handsome coat is made of every thread wool London Kersey. Comes in Black, Blue, Gray, Tan and Purple. It's made in the Pink of Style. We bought the cloth and had them made to suit our taste. Those that failed to measure up to the Klutz standard of requirement were shipped back. The coat cannot be bought anywhere for less than $5.00. See side window display. Remember the Klutz giveaway price is $3.95.

Men's Suits.

Have you seen that all wool $5.50 Suit Klutz is selling at $2.95? We have sold stacks of them. Received 500 last week and have about 250 left. We were offered the suit direct from the factory where the suits were recently made, at a big reduction. We planned down the regular $5.00 suit, like other merchants would do, we are rendering the suits to you at a give away price of $2.95.
